Antiquity of "Low Visibility."

"In the fighting (with the armada) on the 23d of July (1588) the Spaniards' shots flew, for the most part, over the heads of the English, without doing execution. The reason of this was that the English ships, being far less than the enemy's, made the attack with more quickness and agility; and when they had given a broadside they presently sheered off to a convenient distance and leveled their shot so directly at the bigger and more unwieldy ships of the Spaniards as seldom to miss their aim. Their ships far exceeded ours in number and bulk and were much stronger and higher built, and we presented not so great a target for their fire."—Camden's History of Queen Elizabeth.

One Way Out.

One of the congregation of a church not far from Boston, says Harper's Magazine, approached her pastor with the complaint that she was greatly disturbed by the unmelodious singing of one of her neighbors. "It's positively unbearable!" she said. "That man in the pew in front of us spolls the service for me. His voice is harsh and he has no idea of tune. Can't you ask him to change his pew?" The good pastor was sorely perplexed. After a moment's reflection, he said, "Well, I naturally would feel a little delicacy on that score, especially as I should have to tell him why I asked it. But I'll tell you what I might do." Here his face became illuminated by a happy thought. "I might ask him to join the choir."

All you who have torpid liver, weak digestion or constipated bowels look out for chills. The season is here and the air is full of the disease germs. The best thing to do is to get your liver in good condition and purify the stomach and bowels. HERBINE is the right remedy. It answers the purpose completely. Price 50c. Sold by Ringer Drug Co.

Unmanned Cervantes.

The statement that Cervantes lost an arm at the battle of Lepanto is incorrect. This common mistake, as Mr. H. E. Watts and other authorities have pointed out, is due to forced portraits and fraudulent statues. The use of his wounded left hand was never fully recovered, as he himself says, "El movimiento de la mano izquierda" that is to say, he lost "the movement, or use, of the left hand." It is moreover, obvious that he could not have served for four years as an infantry soldier after the total loss of a hand. There is, as a matter of fact, no portrait of Cervantes that can be proved to be contemporary, and only one for which any plausible evidence at all can be produced. So that we must be satisfied with his own description of himself as given in the prologue to the "Exemplary Novels."

Skeptical.

"Mother, Willie said that Mike eats snakes, and I asked him did he eat snakes." "And what did he say?" asked mother. "He said yes, and I asked him what for, and he said, 'for greens.' Now don't you think that was a funny kind of greens?" "Yes," said mother, "but you must not believe all Mike tells you." "Oh, I don't, mother. He told me that once you were as little as I am and that you were ten times prettier, but of course I did not believe that."

Footman Was a Poet.

At least one domestic servant—though a male and not a female one—made a lasting contribution to English literature in the eighteenth century. This was Robert Dodsley, who as a young man served as a footman, and brought out his first works, "Servitude: a Poem," and "The Muse in Livery, or the Footman's Miscellany," while still in service. With the proceeds of these works and a farce, "The Toyshop," produced at Covent Garden, he set up as a bookseller in Pall Mall, and within a few years became the most prominent of London publishers, issuing books for Pope, Johnson and Goldsmith, inaugurating the "Annual Register," and still trifling with the muse himself, besides collecting and editing an invaluable selection of "old plays."—London Chronicle.

Tickling in the throat, hoarseness, loss of voice, indicate the need of BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP. It eases the lungs, quiets the cough and restores health in the bronchial tube. Prices 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ringer Drug Co.

Beautiful Isle of Thasos.

Thasos is the most northerly and the most beautiful of all the Aegean islands. It has a purely Greek population, but practically belongs to the khedives of Egypt. This dates from the days of Mohammed Ali, the common sailor who rose to a throne. He was a native of Thasos, for which he always cherished strong affection, and received his beloved island as a gift from the sultan. Formerly Thasos was famous for gold and marble, but latterly large quantities of timber from the shielded fir forests have been exported to Egypt. In the present war Thasos occupies an important strategic position, commanding the port of Kavalla, on the opposite mainland, and the Germans, who "thought of everything," have tried to establish themselves there by the "peaceful penetration" of a strong colony.
